

Bridgehampton-Sag Harbor Multifaith Thanksgiving Service
& Potluck Dinner

Sunday, November 20 at 3:00 pm

Old Whaler's Church

44 Union Street Sag Harbor

All Are Welcome

Please bring a donation for our local food pantries

You are invited to

Aaron Weininger's Senior Sermon

at the Jewish Theological Seminary

Tuesday, November 22

Minhah 3:15pm followed by Aaron's teaching celebratory dessert reception following

Candle Lighting Friday, November 18 4:12 pm

CSH Shabbat Service Schedule

November 4 – Lech Lecha

November 18 – Chayei Sarah

Old Whaler's Community Center 9:30 am

In December, The Conservative Synagogue of the Hamptons and Temple Adas Israel will join together Shabbat morning for services and Torah study.

December 3 – CSH @ Old Whalers

December 10- Temple Adas Israel

December 17 - Temple Adas Israel

December 24 - CSH @ Old Whalers

December 31 - Temple Adas Israel

This week's parashat: Chayei Sarah

Annual: Genesis 23:1 – 25:188 (Etz Hayim p. 127)

Triennial: Genesis 24:10 – 24:52 (Etz Hayim p. 132)

Haftarah: I Kings 1:1 – 31 (Etz Hayim p. 143)

Musings on Chayei Sarah:

Why does Abraham choose Eliezer to find a wife for his beloved son Isaac? And why does Eliezer look for a woman who, when asked for a little water to drink, will also offer to water all his camels?

Eliezer has been a trusted servant for very many years – since the days when his master was known as Abram (Genesis 15:12). He surely understands the importance that Abraham and Sarah attribute to hospitality to strangers as exemplified in last week's Parashah when the three men pass by and are offered morsels to eat but are treated to a feast. Herein lies the answer. Eliezer clearly understands the values of the family and Abraham knows that he can trust him to find a wife for Isaac that will continue those values. Doesn't every parent want a spouse for their offspring that will do the same?

~~~~~

~~~~~

~~~~~

~~~~~

Happy Anniversary

Sheila and Norman Bleckner celebrating 55 years

Yom Huledet Sameach

David Brous
Bobbie Jaffe
Rana Silver
Wendy Schwarz

Quote of the Week

Shabbat Shalom.

Stacy